

VOLCANIC ASH spewn last week by Mount St. Helens in southwest Washington state is sifted through by Elmer Parks, a Granite City resident who was near Spokane, Wash., when the volcano erupted on May 18.

GC couple sees volcano's devastation

By PAT FOLEY
 of the Press-Record

A Granite City couple's visit to family members in Washington state was abruptly altered last week when Mount St. Helens unleashed an awesome explosion which blew off the top 1,300 feet of the volcano.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer (Helen) Parks, 3004 Ramona Drive, had arrived by air in Spokane, Wash., on the morning of Friday, May 16, totally unaware of what was to happen in less than 48 hours.

The Parks were visiting their granddaughter and her husband, Kenneth and Carolyn Cain of Spangle, Wash., about 20 miles south of Spokane. The Parks were to attend the high school graduation of their great-grandson, Steven, scheduled for Tuesday, May 20.

Mrs. Cain is the former Carolyn Sabo, who was born and reared in Granite City and attended elementary school and high school here. She moved to Washington state in 1970.

"As the family was eating breakfast on Sunday morning (May 18) we heard a large rumble and explosion," Mrs. Parks related.

Spangle is approximately 300 miles from Mount St. Helens, which gives some indication of the power unleashed by the volcano.

This was at 8:32 a.m., but the ash cloud, which eventually drifted to the Quad-City area by Wednesday, May 21, didn't get to Spangle until 2 that afternoon.

For two hours, gray ash fell on the small town. Not even the street lights could be seen, as the ash was so dense.

Mrs. Parks commented, "it felt like black snow."

As the ash "rain" finally subsided, the townspeople found more than an inch of ash covering the entire area. Nothing had been left untouched by the volcano's fury.

Spokane, like most cities in the state, shut down all operations including all transportation, schools, stores and other businesses.

The Parks and Cains were held almost like hostages in their own home. No one left the house from that Sunday afternoon until Friday, May 23. Neighbors swapped food and other necessities until they were able to leave.

On Friday, authorities allowed traffic to move once again, but advised that car owners change their oil, oil filter and air filter every 300 miles to avoid damage to their engines.

Elmer Parks added, "They even told us to put pantyhose over the air intake of the carburetor to keep the ash out."

On Friday, the family began the trip to Spokane. All wore masks which were issued to them to help filter the ash from the air they breathed.

"As we drove to Spokane on Highway 155, a large truck passed our granddaughter's auto, throwing up a huge cloud of ash which momentarily blocked her vision," Mrs. Parks remembered. "She then ran off of the highway and nearly struck a large iron post."

No one was injured in the mishap and the trip to Spokane proceeded without further incident.

Stores in Spokane had just begun to reopen and most storeowners were busily trying to sweep at least some of the ash from in front of their shops.

Abandoned vehicles were everywhere, according to the Parks, who noted that "even the airplanes couldn't fly."

The ash was so fine that it was virtually impossible to brush or even wash out of clothing.

They viewed several young people bagging up some of the ash to be exported to the eastern part of the U.S. for sale as souvenirs. They were told that the small bags, each containing one-half teaspoon, were to be sold for $1.

Mrs. Parks said that even before they left Spokane on Sunday, May 25, there were T-shirts and bumper stickers already available which made reference to the volcano and its effects.

One bumper sticker read, "Ashes to ashes and dust to dust; change your filter—it's a must."

Masks were still mandatory when the Parks left Spokane to come home.

The graduation that the Parks had originally gone to Spangle for was rescheduled for Wednesday, May 28, the same day that classes were to resume.

As the couple boarded the plane in Spokane for St. Louis at about 7 a.m. Sunday, May 25, the volcano erupted once more. But the Granite Cityans didn't stay to see the effects; they had seen enough ash for one trip.

Fund plan for downtown improvements

By GARY SCHNEIDER
 of the Press-Record

A downtown Granite City parking garage, new office buildings, improved sidewalks, a shopping mall and other modern improvements may be made possible through a new financing method under consideration by city officials.

The new method of financing for proposed downtown improvements, called Tax Increment Financing (TIF), is being jointly studied by the city council's Rehabilitation Board and by the downtown improvement committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

TIF does not call for new taxes to be levied on the residents of the city or the district, but does use the extra taxes generated by the district's growth in assessment to pay for the municipal improvements.

The law allowing TIF has been in existence more than a year, but an Illinois Supreme Court opinion holding it constitutional was issued earlier this year, making it possible to sell the bonds the program requires. The court ruling came on a test case initiated by the city of Canton, Ill., which wanted to utilize the funding method.

Belleville currently is planning municipal improvements under the TIF program and Granite City is believed to be only the second city in this area to study it seriously.

David Nolan, administrative assistant to Granite City Mayor Paul Schulz, explained that TIF can work only if a "prime developer" can be found. The city can promise a builder that if he will construct a large business or office complex, the city will provide such things as a parking garage, wider sidewalks, new streets, landscaping or other improvements.

The new law still is being studied, but experts at a recent joint meeting of the Chamber's downtown committee and city officials said any area where half the buildings are 35 years old or older, probably will qualify as a deteriorating district eligible for a TIF program.

Joy Howard of the municipal finance division of Stifel, Nicolaus & Co. consulting firm, St. Louis, explained the TIF program basically allows the city to "freeze" the assessed valuation of a specific area, in this case the downtown area, for a period of years.

If the assessed valuation of the district increases during the program, the taxes collected from the increased assessment can be used to repay the bonds which financed the city's portion of the improvements, she said.

For an example, if the real estate assessment in the district is $50 million, the townspeople found more than an inch of ash covering the entire area. Nothing had been left untouched by the volcano's fury.

Additional taxes generated by the redevelopment would be used to repay the bonds sold to finance the municipal improvements. When the bonds are paid off, the taxing districts will begin receiving taxes based on the higher assessment level.

Tax-exempt bonds, with an interest rate around nine percent, could be sold for the parking garage, street and sidewalk improvements and other work to improve the district, it was explained.

Nolan said the law allows the bonds to be backed by the general obligation of the city (meaning taxpayers would have to pay on the bonds, if the program fails), but said he does not feel such backing will be necessary if a viable program is prepared. "I just don't feel yet that's our way to go," Nolan told the Press-Record.

Tentatively, a district with boundaries from 18th to 21st Street and Madison Avenue to Benton Street is being considered as a TIF redevelopment district.

Major plans are for a parking garage and for large modern office buildings. "We are concerned that some of our industries plan to move some of their offices and their computers to Ladue, Mo. We would like to be able to offer them large, modern office facilities here and keep those jobs in Granite City," Nolan said.

A site close to the city hall is being considered for an office building, he agreed. However, if a prime developer is found who wants to build a large downtown shopping center or commercial project, the city's plans can accommodate that, he added.

"It will take some financing, probably by the city, to hire someone to put together a marketing package which can entice developers to come to Granite City," he noted.

He said the city and Chamber seem to be working "hand-in-hand" on the program and the Chamber's downtown development committee gave Nolan an affirmative vote to proceed jointly on the planning for a TIF program in the downtown Granite City area.

"It's too early to set up a timetable, since we are still in the first stage of planning, but we are working with the mayor's Rehabilitation Board, Tom Wobbe, local assistance program manager for the Northwestern Illinois

Night of unrest

Last night was a night of unrest in and around Kirkpatrick Homes as police sought to quell several disturbances.

Ida Butkas, 3507 Kirkpatrick Homes, who has been the target of several recent incidents of vandalism and who has been subjected to verbal abuse and threats from crowds near her apartment on quite a few occasions, was the victim of vandalism again last night.

At 9:35 p.m., two young men were seen breaking the kitchen window of her apartment and running. About 40 minutes earlier, police broke up a crowd in a grocery store parking lot across Nameoki Road from the housing project and were anticipating additional problems.

At 10:40 last night, Robin Miller, 4007 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Laddie Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, with Stifel, Nicolaus & Co. and with the Chamber to prepare a viable program, as soon as possible," Nolan concluded.

Butkas, East St. Louis, reported they were outside of 3507 Kirkpatrick when a man drove up to them in a car and pointed a gun from the car window at them.

Police arrived and searched the car of John R. Null, 18, of 4110 Kirkpatrick Homes. They alleged finding a pistol under the driver's seat and Null was charged with two counts of reckless conduct on city complaints signed by the two victims.

Two policemen due to get off duty at 11 p.m. were ordered to remain on duty and two squad cars were assigned full time to Kirkpatrick Homes to attempt to keep the peace.

Ten minutes later, a crowd gathered in the 3800 block of the housing project

May revise agreement on mutual firefighting aid

Granite City may seek a revision of its mutual-aid pact for aiding fire departments of neighboring cities if it finds present city insurance does not cover the cost of equipment damaged or destroyed in fighting fires outside the city, City Council members suggested Tuesday night.

The council's fire and water committee was instructed to determine the extent to which the city now has coverage when helping other communities fight fires that take local equipment outside the city limits.

That action followed discussion of a motion by Alderman Earl Baker, chairman of the fire and water committee, that the city advertise for bids for providing a portable radio for the fire department to replace one lost in helping fight a fire on the Venice waterfront last Feb. 28.

Cost of replacing the radio was estimated at $1,585.

Baker told the aldermen that the Granite City fire department sent two pumps, tanks and hoses to assist the Venice department in fighting a fire on the tug boat Senator Sam, and that while he was fighting the fire the radio of the Granite City fireman into the river.

Since then, Baker told the aldermen, underwriters of city insurance policies have informed him the item was not covered.

Several aldermen suggested Granite City ask Venice to assume financial responsibility in such a case, and Mayor Paul Schulz said he believed Venice should have an interest in the problem.

Alderman Warren Deatour said the fire department meanwhile must replace the radio and that it is needed now. On that basis, council members decided to proceed with the purchase of a new radio and then see what can be done about reimbursement.

George Smolich, assistant fire chief, told the aldermen that the fire department several years ago assisted at a fire in Nameoki Township at which several hundred feet of hose were destroyed, and that "the city never was able to recover from insurance firms" or anyone else for the loss.

The aldermen agreed generally that the city should determine what provisions are now contained in the mutual-aid pact adopted by most neighboring communities, and then seek revision of the pact if it fails to make some provision for recovery of losses.

The motion to advertise for bids was approved.

Papal likely successor

Callis steps down as city's attorney

Lance Callis, city attorney of Granite City for the past two and a half years, resigned the post Tuesday night because of the press of his private practice.

Callis, a figurehead in the administrative organization of Mayor Paul Schulz, told council members by letter that "due to recent commitments in my private practice, I no longer have the time to devote to the duties of city attorney."

He said it has been a privilege to serve the council and that "I wish (the council) continued success in the efforts to make Granite City a better place in which to work and live."

Callis was appointed city attorney by Mayor Schulz on Dec. 20, 1977, to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of George Filcotti due to his appointment as an associate judge of the Third Judicial Circuit.

John Papa, a member of the Callis law firm, is expected to receive the appointment as city attorney, although Mayor Schulz did not act during the council session Tuesday night to fill the position.

Papa has served as an assistant city attorney since Callis' appointment as head of the legal staff.

Callis lives at 3136 Harvard Place.

In addition to Papa, members of the city's legal staff include Irvin Slat, Jr., assistant city attorney who handles most of the court trials involving law suits against the city, and Casper Nighohossian who handles condemnation cases.

50¢ bus fare July 1

The Bi-State Development Agency board voted 7-1 yesterday to boost the basic 25-cent bus fare to 50 cents starting July 1.

'1913 era' telephones

Illinois Bell's new old phone — "the Country Junction," introduced to phone users Tuesday — is said to have an apt name. The wall model, an adaptation of a 1913 phone, is designed to be the "junction of the spirit of yesterday and today's most modern communications technology."

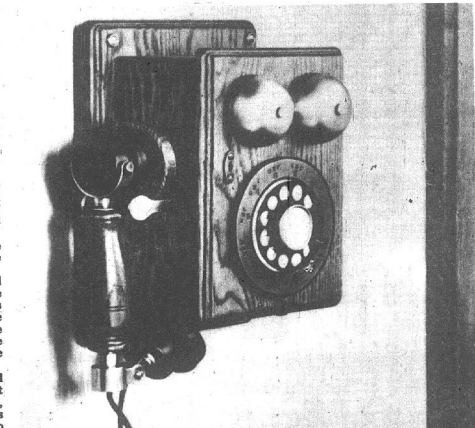

The new decorator phone is the 15th in the Design Line series. The old-fashioned box housing of Country Junction is crafted from natural oak and accented by antique nickel bells atop its cabinet.

A closer look shows attention to detail, with dovetail joints and beveled edges. The lathe-turned handset is of solid oak, weighted for ease and comfort of handling.

Another authentic aspect of the Country Junction telephone is the straight braided handset cord.

"We haven't made fabric-covered cords on a regular basis since the 1940s," says Randall L. Tobias, Illinois Bell vice president-residence. "The inside wiring is strictly up to the minute, but the braided covering is the same one we used 67 years ago," he said.

Hand-crafting and antiquing required special training for buffing operators at Western Electric's Indianapolis plant, where the Country Junction is produced. Tobias said engineers had to Five members of Tri-City Assembly 1088, Knights of Columbus, have been inducted into the Fourth Degree Branch.

Exemplified with the patriotic degree were: Robert Buecker, Joe Timko, John Levy, Frank Kierski and T. A. Feeler.

Buecker is a Granite City resident and has been active locally in the Boy Scouts of America. He is employed at Granite City Steel and is a member of St. Joseph parish.

Timko, a resident of Madison, has been active with the Knights for several years. He is retired from Anheuser-Busch and is a member of St. Marys parish in Madison.

Levey, a former Venice resident and now living in Granite City, is also a member of St. Joseph parish and is employed by the Illinois Terminal Railroad.

Kierski, of Madison, is a past Grand Knight in the Third Degree and is presently serving as deputy grand knight. He has served as chairman of many Knights of Columbus events, including bowling tournaments, trips and banquets.

Kierski is vice-president of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club and is employed at the First Granite City National Bank. He is a parishoner of St. Mary's parish in Madison.

Feeler, of Granite City, is currently grand knight for the Third Degree. He has been chairman of the annual Tootsie Roll Drive for the Mentally Retarded, and has organized picnics and membership drives for the Knights of Columbus. Feeler is employed by the federal government and is a St. Elizabeth parishoner.

The five men were members of a class dedicated to Bishop Stanley G. Schlarman.

There were 100 men from the Southern Illinois District elevated to the Fourth Degree.

The exemplification ceremonies were held in Belleville with Master

Inflation curb policies topic

"Every worker could get a raise and not add to inflation if the government reduced payroll taxes, especially Social Security." The idea, one of a list of fiscal incentives for homes and businesses, is part of a plan to control inflation discussed Wednesday in a public forum.

Sponsored by the department of economics at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, it included eight panelists.

By reducing payroll taxes, workers would get an increase in take-home pay, which should encourage moderation at the next wage bargaining session, in the view of Professor Steven Lin. On the business side, Lin said, the reduced payroll tax would also lower the matching funds the company pays, allowing the business to cut costs and hold down price increases of its product.

To work, he emphasized, the incentives must follow a move toward appropriate monetary and fiscal policies by the government.

He gave the policy makers good marks for taking "a first step in the right direction" when the government increased the deduction for interest and dividends from $200 to $400 for individuals. This change will encourage the wage earner to work harder and to produce and save more, instead of looking for a tax loophole or shelter, Lin said.

Other ideas for controlling inflation include a tax base income policy (TIP) tied to rewards and punishments for companies giving wage increases above or below a productivity formula, and an accelerated depreciation allowance for businesses, allowing 10, 5 or 3-year periods instead of 30 years on capital expenditures. The freed funds could be invested in research and development to increase productivity.

Lin said the country needs some type of incentive program because both the rate of personal saving and the rate of business investment in research and development have steadily declined over the last decade compared with other industrial countries.

Taken together, the short and long-range programs should restrain demand and increase supply, which would alleviate inflation, he is convinced.

Two-day trash pickup Friday

Millam-East division of SCA Services will make both Thursday and Friday trash collections on Friday, it was announced today.

The firm initially reported that due to the Memorial Day holiday all collection routes would be delayed this week by one day, with regular Friday pickups made Saturday.

It was decided to schedule both collection routes on Friday instead of working Saturday as previously announced, a spokesman for the trash collection contractor stated today.

Wednesday pickups are being made today.

Eight earn special award

Eight Junior Girl Scouts were presented the "I Live My Faith" medal of Catholic Girl Scouting at a special liturgy celebration at the 9 a.m. mass last week at St. Elizabeth Church.

The medals were presented by the Rev. Henry Schmidt, pastor, to Junior Scouts Kathi Grobowski, Ann Miskell, Beth Scherrills, Tammie Ames, Susan Arth, Ann Krystopa, Caryl Kubelka and Ann Szczepanik. The girls are from Troops 683 and 196 and all attend St. Elizabeth Catholic School.

The "I Live My Faith" program is a newly designed program to help Girl Scouts ages 9 through 11 appreciate more deeply the place that God and religion occupy in their daily lives. Program activities focus on developing an awareness of individual potential as a growing person, a member of her family, a citizen and a participant in the community of faith, a leader.

The program is divided into three chapters, "Stretching," "Seeking" and "Finding." Each chapter focuses on the dimensions of discovery, prayer, services and sacrament, it was noted.

An important part of the "I Live My Faith" program is the involvement of parents in the process of faith sharing. It is a relatively recent program for Catholic Girl Scouts, the spokesman said.

Troop 683 is under the leadership of Margaret Grobowski, Lorraine Miskell and Pam Ames and Troop 196 is under the leadership of JoAnn Arth and Rose Krystopa.

Special guests at the presentation included Mrs. Margot Clements, neighborhood V chairman, and Mrs. Myra Parrish, District IV adviser.

2nd charge filed

A second charge of theft has been filed by Granite City police against James Buddy Clubb, 62, of 2250 State St., after police alleged that a gun officers removed from his home last week turned out to be stolen.

He was charged Monday, May 19, with theft for allegedly having a stolen balance scale and carrying case, and with failure to have a firearm owner's identification card while having five guns in his home.

The guns were seized by police for investigation and computer checks indicated one of the weapons was stolen, officers said.

50¢ bus fare

withheld mass transportation tax receipts.

The 25-cent fare dates back to 1973. Already charging 50 cents or more are the bus systems in such cities as Dallas, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Los Angeles, New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Milwaukee and Indianapolis.

The fare for express, rapid, park-ride and shopper express bus lines in this metropolitan area will rise to 75 cents. But 10-cent zone charges will be abolished.

The new fare for children aged five through 12 will be 25 cents, up from 15 cents. The fare for elderly and handicapped persons will be 25 cents at all times, compared to present rates of 10 and 15 cents during off-peak and peak hours.

Weekly passes will rise from $3.50 to $7. They are used for unlimited riding during the week of issue on local service. Starting July 1, passes will be good Tuesdays through Mondays instead of the present Mondays through Sundays.

Transfers will continue to be issued to elderly and handicapped bus riders at no charge, and to regular riders for 10 cents.

Absent at yesterday's meeting were Dempster Holland and Auther Adams. Carl Mathias is one of the five Illinois commissioners on the 10-member board.

Bi-State Executive Director Charles G. Houghton said in a statement to employees that "all our costs have skyrocketed. We have until now absorbed all the price increases without an increase in fares."

"In 1973, the price of diesel fuel—which we use about 32,000 gallons a day—was 15 cents a gallon; bus fare was 25 cents. Today, diesel fuel is over 90 cents a gallon."

"Even with the 50-cent bus fare, Bi-State is still the best bargain around. You can ride a lot farther for a lot less than in other states."

"Compare 50 cents for the full one-way trip with 31 cents per mile, which is what it costs to operate a medium sized car here; and, of course, there's the amount you pay for parking that car."

Night of unrest

and officers ordered everyone to go home.

At 11:30 p.m., another crowd was reported in the 3500 block and police again dispersed them. Eight minutes later, however, a crowd formed in the old cemetery behind Kirkpatrick Homes and was broken up by officers.

An uneasy calm followed, with the next call for police coming at 1:05 a.m. today outside of 3507 Kirkpatrick, where suspicious persons had been seen. At 1:33 a.m., officers discovered a loud party in an apartment in the 3400 block of Kirkpatrick Homes and ordered the residents there to stop the noise.

At 3 a.m. today, police said the apartment project appeared quiet and the officers who had been put on overtime from the previous shift were allowed to clock out.

In the past month, there have been reports of auto vandalism, tire slashings, windows of apartments being broken, battery incidents and other disturbances in and around the 3500 block.

700-ton daily Air Products expansion

Six cold boxes, bound for the Granite City Steel plant are to be moved there this week from the Tri-City Port. They were brought here up the Mississippi River after being unloaded at the Port of New Orleans from the U.S. flag heavy-lift vessel, the "Paul Bunyan," upon arrival from the Port of Birkenhead, Liverpool, England.

Manufactured by the British subsidiary of Air Products and Chemicals, Inc., at its Acrefair, Great Britain, facility, the big, heavy boxes were barged up the Mississippi while power lines were being moved here to make way for their transfer.

The cold boxes contain heat exchangers and distillation columns to cryogenically separate air into its various components. They will be used to expand Air Products' on-site industrial gas facility at Granite City Steel by 700 tons per day of oxygen and nitrogen.

The oxygen and nitrogen will be used in steel and iron production, and for general plant applications.

When it comes on-stream in early 1981, the expanded facility will be able to provide 1,100 tons per day of gaseous oxygen to Granite City Steel and 400 tons per day of liquid products to merchant customers.

Air Products and Chemicals is based in Allentown, Pa.

The board also authorized the clerk's office to seek bids for one new patrol car, a bid, for an intermediate sized police-package car, are to be received through 4 p.m. Friday, June 30, after which they will be opened and considered by the board.

A request from the minister of Central Baptist Church that the congregation be able to keep the present fire alarm in the building after it is purchased by the village for a new village hall was taken under advisement by the board.

Trustees indicated they would like to wait until the village takes possession of the building before it decides which parts of the alarm system will be needed by the village and which parts can be returned to the congregation.

Nameoki seeks van for elderly

By RICK PEARSON
The elderly in Nameoki Township may get their wheels back.

The township board Tuesday approved an emergency measure calling for Supervisor Harold Davis to spend up to $1,000 to purchase a vehicle for the senior citizens' Helping Hand program.

The township's elderly have been without subsidized transportation since April 30, when a van, provided by Bo Beuckman Ford of Collinsville, was recalled because of the current economic conditions in the auto industry.

The van, which took the elderly and handicapped on more than 100 trips during April, was called a necessity by township officials, as they looked for a way to replace service.

Davis said officials of Beuckman Ford contacted the township and offered to sell them the van they had been using, but the township could not afford to buy it. However, Davis said he was told that if economic conditions improve, the dealership may be able to provide a van this fall.

The supervisor said that the township's newly formed Senior Citizens' Advisory Committee has recommended the emergency purchase of a vehicle, due to the number of telephone requests received by the township from those in need of transportation.

Currently, Davis said, there are two or three vehicles he knows of which the township could purchase for less than $1,000. If the purchase can be made quickly, the free transportation service could resume sometime next week, the supervisor added.

In addition to the emergency purchase, Davis said the township will make an application to the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging for a grant to purchase a new vehicle.

"They told us (earlier in the month) there would be money available later for purchasing the van," Davis said, "and we just received notice, that the money is now available."

"We'll throw our application in the hat and see if we can get some new money," he added.

Robert Holder, administrative assistant for the township, said he is in the process of obtaining grant information from the SWIAAOA.

Marchers' destination - Capitol

Southern Illinois backers of the Equal Rights Amendment at 8 p.m. Friday will start a 90-mile, four-day, candlelight march from the steps of the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville to the doors of the Illinois House chambers in Springfield.

"The march will show the extent of our commitment and dedication to seek passage of the ERA by the Illinois General Assembly," said Peggy Patty, director of the Alton ERA Center and downtown coordinator of ERA efforts.

The event will be called the "Civil Rights March for Equality" to underscore that ERA is a matter of fundamental human dignity and fairness.

"Like the civil rights marches of another decade," she said, "our aim is not simply to make a public statement."

"This is also a way for ERA supporters to share their determination that equality of rights under the law will be on the legislature's agenda until the 27th Amendment becomes a reality."

Among participants will be labor leaders, clergy, political leaders and citizens.

Backers who cannot afford to leave work will sponsor walkers who can make the trip.

In addition, some backers will travel only a portion of the itinerary, so the total number of marchers may ebb and flow around 40.

The procession will leave Edwardsville Friday evening at 8 following an interfaith prayer service and a candlelight vigil on the courthouse steps.

The group, expected to be small at the start, will keep to sidewalks and non-residential areas.

From the County Courthouse, the group will traverse Illinois Route 157 to stay overnight Friday in Hamel.

On Saturday, the walkers will take Routes 140 and 4 east and north, overnighting at Gillespie.

The overnight Sunday stay is at Nilwood, with the last night being spent in Chatham, about 15 miles southeast of Springfield. The schedule calls for arrival at the State Capitol on Tuesday, June 3.

Madison and Macoupin counties supporters will join the procession along the way and help provide food and overnight shelter.

Mitchell Presbyterian lift aids handicapped

The sanctuary of the Mitchell Presbyterian Church, Greenway and E. Chain of Rocks Road, last week became more accessible to handicapped persons through the installation of an electric porch lift.

The lift, installed by Double-D Industries, Inc., of St. Charles, Mo., is designed in such a way that handicapped persons may operate the lift themselves without assistance.

The decision to install the lift was made at the March 17 meeting of the Session, the local governing board of the Mitchell church.

"When our present sanctuary was built in 1957, there wasn't as much awareness of the needs of handicapped persons as there is today," commented the pastor, the Rev. Jeffrey B. Cheadle.

"Now we're a little more sensitive, and we've done something about it. Through this addition we, as a congregation, are using our building to say, 'Welcome; we care to people who are confined to wheelchairs or have difficulty in climbing stairs.'"

Structural changes were needed in order to accommodate the lift. Since the sanctuary was one full step higher than the front porch, the porch needed to be built up.

William Norris, one of the congregation's ruling elders, volunteered his effort — and two weeks of his vacation — to remedy the situation. Outdoor carpeting was added to the porch at the same time.

"We hope the installation of the lift may encourage other area churches, businesses and organizations to consider the special needs of handicapped persons," Rev. Cheadle said.

The church gathers for worship each Sunday at 11 a.m.

Memorial Day Venice service

Memorial services were held on Monday morning, May 26, on the lawn of Venice-Madison Post 307 of the American Legion. Kenneth Hinson, post adjutant, was master of ceremonies and delivered a short talk on the meaning of Memorial Day.

Father Gehlen of St. Mark's Church, Venice, gave the opening prayer and the benediction. Wreaths were placed by officers of Unit 307 for the veterans of World War I, World War II, Korean and Vietnam wars before the replica of an unknown soldier tomb on the lawn.

Another wreath was placed on the John F. Kennedy Memorial there.

The wreaths were placed by: Mrs. Loretta Zeigler, president; Mrs. Mary Lou Griffith, second vice-president; Mrs. Hazel Pozniak, chaplain; Mrs.

Grace Hormann, sergeant-at-arms; and Miss Dorothy Hinson, secretary.

The U.S. flag was raised by the following members of Lewis and Clark Squadron 11226 of the Civil Air Patrol, Edwardsville: Darle Coleman, Alan Lake, Mike Noeltner, Mike Shadwick and Steve Mang.

Members of Boy Scout Troop 1 of Venice displayed their U.S. flag and Boy Scout banner. They were David Billbre, Kenneth Campbell and Mark Robinson, assisted by Jack Tolliver, Post 307, Boy Scout chairman.

Following the ceremonies, a coffee was held for the Auxiliary members and for their honored guest, Mrs. Melvin Mayes, a Gold Star mother from Madison.

During the afternoon, Post and Auxiliary members, their families, and friends enjoyed a barbecue at the Post Dugout.

Senate okays SIUE gym

Another step toward construction of an SIUE multi-purpose facility for physical education recreation and athletic activities was taken Thursday with the passage of Senate Bill 1665.

The legislation is described by Senator Sam M. Vadala as crucial to the future of the university and this region.

"Since this bill is an administration measure backed by Governor Thompson, I expect it to have clear sailing in the House," Vadala predicted.

"Since the SIUE project, which involves the commitment of $1 million from the university's income fund, is 13th on the list of priorities, I am convinced that the governor will approve it, thus keeping a commitment of long standing to which he has been faithful every step of the way."

"All who have seen fit to work with me and supported this bill in the Senate have my deepest appreciation," the senator added. "Congratulations should also go to all the officials of the Southern Illinois University system and to the administration at SIUE which has worked so hard to bring this project to completion."

"Ever since I have been a legislator, this building has been sorely needed at the local campus, which is the only public institution of higher education in Illinois lacking a building in which it can develop a solid physical education program."

By offering decent recreational facilities, enrollment figures can be enhanced and sustained. "SIUE has won two major NCAA national championships this year, in soccer and tennis, proving that it has an athletic program that well deserves a building in which it can develop further intercollegiate competitive strength."

"I will pursue this legislation until all approvals have been secured," Vadala concluded. "I will not rest until the ribbon has been cut, opening this fine facility for the university and public use."

Retiring principal honored

Speaking of Mrs. Anna Spencer's retirement plans, Venice Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers commented this week, "The students of Venice Grade School will lose their principal, the school district will lose a dedicated and dependable leader, and I will lose a valued member of the administrative team."

She was honored at a reception at 3:30 p.m. Friday in the Venice school gymnasium.

"Born and reared in Venice and a graduate of the Lincoln High School of Venice, Mrs. Spencer has decided to retire after 31 years in education," Vickers noted.

"With the exception of three months, I have had the privilege of knowing and working with Mrs. Spencer for all of her 31 years in Venice."

"I have had the opportunity to observe her as a classroom teacher and as a fellow administrator. I have been able to share her concerns over parent apathy and lack of involvement in the educational affairs of children."

"In spite of all criticisms, hardships and changes that have occurred over the past 31 years, I have seen a dedicated professional go about her work in the businesslike manner that produces results. In this day and time, this is often no easy task."

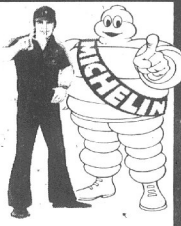

"While I regret the loss of a dependable administrator and friend, I know that her 'dues' have been fully paid and I wish her every happiness in the years ahead," the superintendent said.

Blair closing just a rumor

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

About 100 persons gathered Tuesday evening in the Venice Recreation Center, concerned over a rumor that Blair school was to be closed.

Much concern was expressed over busing of students from one building to another.

School Board President Sam Dymas told the group the board has never discussed closing Blair and he was at a loss to understand how the rumor was started.

"We are meeting with state officials to discuss compliance with desegregation since Blair is almost completely black. The state has made several suggestions and we are considering what is best for all the children."

"We are asking an extension of time for one year to help us work on this situation and we appreciate suggestions," Dymas added. When it was suggested by one member of the audience that some members of the board were elected to represent the white people and two members of the board were black, Mrs. Billie Bosworth stood up and said, "I object to that comment strongly. I was elected to represent all the people of our district regardless of where they live."

Black Board Member Eddie Newsome also stated that he represented the entire district and not just one segment.

Dymas said, "When we hear from the state board as to any time extension, I would like to see a citizens group of Blair school mothers, the Harris School mothers and representatives of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) to help us work out a plan that will be best for our children and hopefully keep everyone happy."

NAACP President John Henry Williams said, "We want to make sure the board is fair and make sure they follow the law."

"It the board tries in any way to stop desegregation we'll fight you in the courts. "I feel we have to first work with the board and give them a chance to work things out."

"We are 20 years behind the times and we have to be concerned about our children. We all got to work together."

"We got a problem, but where is everyone? We should have three to four hundred people here to discuss this problem," Williams said.

Mrs. Angela Smith, president of the Blair School Parents Club, chaired the meeting.

School board members attending were Dymas, Newsome, Mrs. Bosworth and Paul Bargiel.

Pleads guilty

Richard A. Stahlheber, 24, of 2218 Grand Ave., who allegedly injured two police officers during a scuffle in his home April 10, has pleaded guilty to two counts of battery and has been sentenced to serve one year of probation, the last 90 days in the county jail, and to pay a $500 fine.

He initially was charged with two counts of aggravated battery, but was allowed to plead guilty to the lesser charge.

Police alleged they were attempting to take Stahlheber into custody at his home for questioning in an unrelated incident and Stahlheber allegedly struggled with two officers, pushing Patrolman R. L. Knezevich through an aluminum and glass screen door and tumbling down the stairs in the broken glass with Knezevich and Patrolman Kenneth Crawford. Knezevich also was kicked in the groin during the arrest, it was alleged.

Crawford suffered cuts to his left thigh, back and right shoulder and skinned knuckles and Knezevich suffered cuts to his face and neck and soreness. Both required treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Glen Ferris, Country Junction product engineer at the Indianapolis plant, said the new training program was instituted because the buffers were used to making parts look new and shiny.

"They had a hard time trying to make them look old. We finally set up visual appearance standards."

We put up a display with a range of what colors were acceptable. The operators try to antique the parts within the range."

Monmouth College is an independent liberal arts institution affiliated with the United Presbyterian Church. Founded in 1853, it awards the bachelor of arts degree in 22 disciplines within the fields of language and communications, mathematics and natural sciences, social sciences and history, and humanities and fine arts.

The sale will be held on the bookmobile, which will be parked on 20th Street behind the main library downtown.

3 ARE TREATED Mrs. Susan Copeland, 20, of 3106 Kirkpatrick Homes, bumped her head during an auto accident last week and was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for observation. Her son, Donald, 1, suffered an abrasion to his left cheek and Mark, 3, also was checked in the emergency room, but no injuries were found. Both boys were released.

Madison okays annexation

The Madison City Council approved at its Tuesday evening meeting the annexation of 11 homes in the 1900 and 2000 blocks of Harris St., referred to as the McNair addition.

The motion to annex by Alderman Thomas Gordon, seconded by Alderman Don Reeves, was passed unanimously by the council. Many of the residents of the area, formerly in Nameoki Township, have been wanting to become part of the city of Madison for several years.

Charles "Bud" Skinner, a

Harris Street resident, after the vote, said to the council, "I've lived in Madison 64 years and I want to tell the council I'm glad to be in Madison officially."

The 11 homes will now be part of the Second Ward. At the request of Mike Maack, director of the alarm department, the council authorized the advertising for bids on a cable television system, emergency response system, and a truck chassis with utility body and telescopic lift.

The cost of the equipment is estimated in excess of $300,000. The council further approved advertising for bids for gasoline for city vehicles. The Illinois Department of Transportation notified the city that $3,011 has been allotted for the maintenance of Madison Avenue for the coming year, an increase over the current $2,752.

Two special use permit requests were referred to the Zoning Board for recommendations. Daniel Glen Hayden, 1008 Grand Ave., has requested a special use permit to increase facilities for automotive repair; and John Stockert, 1723 Elizabeth St., is seeking permission to build a garage eight feet from his home, as the ordinance calls for 10 feet.

Alderman Thomas Gordon inquired about the city's street signs being in disrepair and was assured that they would be repainted or replaced.

Stack salary bill delayed 3rd time

An ordinance setting the salary of James Stack—the third in as many weeks—failed again to gain final passage during a regular meeting of the City Council Tuesday night and ended up as usual on first reading.

The ordinance resulted from council action in the May 20 session in which the aldermen rejected another ordinance that would have reduced Stack's salary more than $2,000 below what he is now receiving. The ordinance offered Tuesday night would fix Stack's salary at $18,031, the amount he is now receiving.

Council members voted eight to four in favor of a motion by Alderman Paul Fisk, chairman of the ordinance committee, to place the new bill on final passage, but the motion lost because a minimum of 10 votes is required to suspend the rules for final passage of an ordinance in the same meeting in which it is presented.

Stack is a former assistant street superintendent who several months ago was removed from the street department post and named an assistant city inspector, working under City Inspector Emerald Dawes who receives a salary of $17,854.

As a street department assistant, Stack was receiving $18,631.

As a result, some aldermen insisted Stack's salary should be reduced because he was making more money than Dawes for whom he is working.

Three weeks ago, an ordinance reducing Stack's salary to $16,030 was introduced, but a motion to suspend the rules for final passage lost.

The bill was placed on first reading and was recalled for action in the regular meeting on May 20.

In that session, a majority of aldermen rejected the wage-cutting bill and voted to instruct the city attorney to bring in an ordinance fixing Stack's salary at the present amount of $18,631.

When that ordinance was presented Tuesday night, several aldermen noted that Stack's salary was listed on the regular payroll list at the $18,631 figure. A motion was made to hold up the salary for the May 15 to 30 period, but after Assistant City Attorney John Papa noted that the council could pay the amount later, the payroll listing was left unchanged and Stack's salary remained at $776 for the two-week period.

When the 8 to 4 vote defeated the rules suspension, Fisk moved the salary bill be placed on first reading. That motion carried 9 to 3.

Mrs. Stern an ERA coordinator

Rosalie Stern, of 1902 Fifth St., Madison, has been named as an ERA coordinator to assist in the drive to obtain ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment by the Illinois General Assembly.

Mrs. Stern, 51, a lifetime supervisor of the local area, is a telephone company retail store. She has been employed by the Bell System for over 30 years.

Mrs. Stern was assigned to work with ERA proponents in Granite City by Peggy Patti, director of the Alton ERA Center and a coordinator of downstate ERA efforts. She is one of nine coordinators working in the Madison County area.

"I have seen too many "clinging vine" widows in my days," Mrs. Stern said. "These are women who during their married years were totally dependent on the generosity of their husbands. When their husbands died, they were left with no working knowledge of how to survive."

Mrs. Stern said her father "would have been an ideal feminist. He treated all his children equally."

"I feel equal and I see absolutely no reason why, under the law of the land, I do not have equal citizenship."

Mrs. Stern is president of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club. She is married and has seven sons, and is a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison.

Voter registration at high schools improves

Miss Evelyn Bowles, county clerk, reported Wednesday that the voter registration drive conducted in the high schools of Madison County, have been highly successful.

Much of the success is attributable to the request by the State Board of Elections that the administrators of the high schools make special efforts to encourage eligible students to take advantage of the availability of a registrar at each school.

The registrations at each school are as follows: Madison High, 13; Triad High, 33; Granite City North, 24; Granite City South, 55; Marquette High (Alton), 44; Bethalto High, 11; Venice High, 13; East Alton-Wood River High, 40; Roxana High, 32; Alton

High, 16; Highland High, 43; Total, 324.

Registration has been conducted in the high schools each year by the county clerk. However, this year's turnout was the best to date, Miss Bowles said.

Senate would end meat, dairy taxes

The Illinois Senate on Thursday passed a Democratic-authored proposal to phase out through product exemptions the state's sales tax on food and medicine.

One of the measure's chief supporters, Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, Democrat from Edwardsville, said Senate Bill 1457 would eliminate by mid-1982 the state's sales tax on food and medicine. The bill, sponsored by Senator George Sangmeister, D-Mokena, calls for elimination of the tax in three steps:

- Beginning Aug. 1, 1980, the state sales tax on all prescription and non-prescription medicines, meat, poultry, fish and dairy products would be eliminated.
- As of Aug. 1, 1981, the state sales tax on fresh produce and bakery products would be eliminated.
- Beginning Aug. 1, 1982, the state sales tax on all other food for human consumption, to be consumed away from the premises where it was purchased, would be eliminated.

"The Democratic Party took a stand last year to forever eliminate the state's sales tax on human necessities," Sen. Vadalabene said. "We are still committed to eliminating that tax, but we believe we have developed a better mechanism for phasing it out."

"By giving certain food items priority listing, we will end the state's sales tax on those items, one group at a time. In doing so, we will end the confusion from the penny sales tax reduction which was enacted earlier this year."

"I've received complaints from retail merchants who say they can't afford sophisticated checkout machinery to implement a penny sales tax differential."

"Bill 1457 eventually will eliminate the need for that sophisticated cash register. And this legislation can aid those who need tax relief the most," Vadalabene concluded.

Free summer school classes which will begin June 9 are still open for enrollment at Coolidge and Prather Junior High Schools. Superintendent of Schools D. J. Davis has announced that additional students may still enroll at both schools.

These classes, which will run for seven weeks—from June 9 through July 25—are funded by the federal government and involve no cost to the student or the school district.

Remedial reading classes are offered at Coolidge for students enrolled at that school last year or for sixth grade students who will attend Coolidge in September.

Classes are one and a half hours, from 8:30 to 10 a.m. and from 10:15 to 11:45 a.m. Parents interested in enrolling their children may contact the principal, Mike Silvers, at Coolidge by calling 877-1512.

Remedial reading and mathematics are offered at Prather for students enrolled at Prather last year or sixth graders who will attend that school in September. Classes are one and a half hours, from 8:30 to 10 a.m. and from 10:15 to 11:45 a.m. Interested parents may contact the principal, Calvin Bartels, at the school by calling 876-6656.

The classes do not carry any credit and are intended only to help students improve basic skills.

Both programs have been offered in previous years and have been well attended.

No transportation is provided. Any additional questions are being answered by Dale C. Best, assistant to the superintendent, at the Board of Education Office, 876-6900. Rea is responsible for federally-funded programs in the Granite City school district.

Burglary is charged

James J. Palovich, 21, who resides in the YMCAs, was charged with burglary in an informational document issued last week by the Madison County state's attorney's office and his bond has been set at $25,000.

He allegedly was seen inside Netheringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, May 22, after neighbors reported a youth was acting in a suspicious manner, trying to open the church's doors and windows.

Police arrived and found a window in a door had been broken and saw a youth walking inside the church, carrying a radio.

Officers were waiting outside when the youth climbed out a window and was arrested. It was reported. Police then searched the building, but found no one else inside.

Church officials said the radio the youth was carrying did not come from the church building.

Merchandise return service

The Postal Service board of governors has approved permanent implementation of merchandise return service, a plan intended to make it more convenient for shoppers to return merchandise.

The new service permits customers to mail back packages to merchants, with the shipper bearing the cost of the return mailing instead of the consumer.

The board's action affirms the decision of the independent Postal Rate Commission recommending permanent implementation of the service.

Earlier, the Postal Service had announced implementation on a temporary basis following a settlement agreement between the Postal Service and various associations of mail users on how the service should be implemented. That agreement established a fee of 30 cents to be paid by the shipper in addition to proper postage. It permitted the use of a single label to return parcels, such as books and recordings, whose postage does not vary with distance.

The new service also uses a two-label system to return parcels, mailed at rates which vary according to distance.

Using the merchandise return service, a customer applies a special label instead of postage and deposits the package at the post office. At the destination post office, a postal clerk deducts the correct amount of postage from the merchant's trust fund account.

Merchants pay an annual $30 permit fee, provide their own labels, maintain their post office trust account, and pay 20 cents postage for each item returned.

The end came not softly for North

GRANITE CITY — The end. It comes softly for some. For those who know it's coming. Those who expect it.

It comes not softly for those who do not expect it.

Granite City North's baseball Steelers are a group in the mold of those who do not look for the end. They look forward to getting to the ball park each day for a game. For them, baseball is fun. It was, that is, until Tuesday afternoon.

Tuesday was a day North and its coach Bob Stegemeier had anticipated since the third week of the season, way back in April. This was it. The big one. The championship of the Granite City South Class 2A Regional Tournament.

If the Steelers didn't win another game after Tuesday's, it still would be easier to accept. Because the opponent in the big one was the bitter enemy. Perhaps even more this season than crosstown school Granite City South.

Edwardsville. The team that defeated Granite North's powerful Steelers three straight times within the span of a week early in the season. The GEC had finally formed its first pure conference rivalry. North vs. Edwardsville. The same Edwardsville Tiger squad that for all intents and purposes sewed up the Gateway East Conference championship with those three wins. Granite North had won 24 games and lost only seven. Three were to Edwardsville. No other teams in the conference could touch them.

But the Steelers perhaps wanted the game too much. Maybe it was the pressure. The 200 or so fans in the bleachers were about 190 more than either team was used to playing baseball in front of.

But it wasn't the pressure. It wasn't the fans. It was a case of Edwardsville picking a good day to play one of its best games ever. And a bad day for North to play one of its worst.

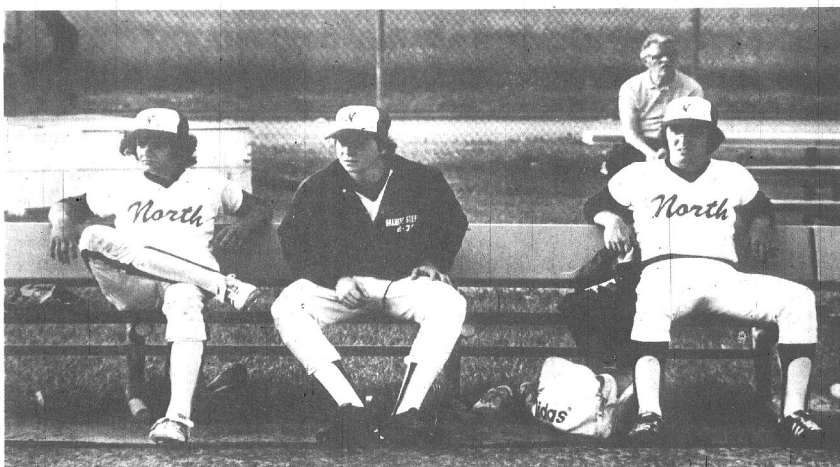

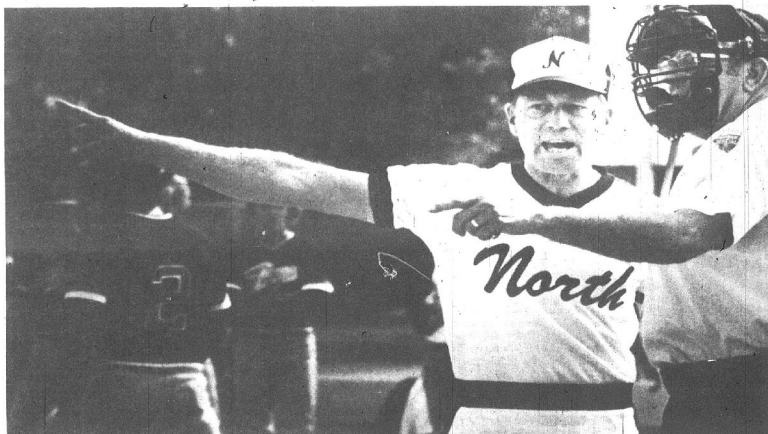

Edwardsville won, 11-2.

The score sounds like the game was a rout. It was, but not until the seventh inning. Up until that point, the Steelers still felt they could win. They could come back. Funnier things had happened. But after Edwardsville scored three more times in the seventh, it was over.

They didn't go down easily, though. It wasn't in their nature to do that. But it was too late.

There would be no return trip to the State Finals for Granite North. Last season, Edwardsville was supposed to go. North beat the Tigers in the regional.

Turnabout. Maybe fair play. But never easy.

PHOTOS — (Clockwise from top right) North's Dennis Page safely crosses the plate with his team's second run ... North coach Bob Stegemeier argues with home plate umpire Joe Bendekovits ... second baseman Dan Patterson, pitcher Kevin Cripps and pitcher Keith Burton (left to right) watch Edwardsville celebrate its win. ... Page tries to elude catcher Phil Conreux ... Edwardsville coach Bob Funkhouser can't believe a call by the umpire.

Entries up at Nationals

Special to
the Press-Record
ST. LOUIS — Drag racing, 1980 style, will be unveiled at the St. Louis International Raceway, on Ill. Route 203, May 30, 31, and June 1 with the American Hot Rod Association's annual Gateway Nationals.

The Gateway Nationals, traditionally one of the largest of the AHRA's Grand American Series of eight professional races, again will span three racing days to accommodate the huge field of race cars that will participate.

"Entries for the Nationals look extremely good," said Jim Pie, President of the American Hot Rod Association. "Our pro-entries are up substantially from last year."

Pie said that purses in all racing classes have been increased over the 1979 level, and in many cases the increase was at least 25 percent.

Pie pointed out that Top
Fuel dragsters and Funny Car winners would receive $5,000 instead of last year's $4,000 prize, and that corresponding increases were added all down the line.
"We've simply raised the purses this year in every classification from E. T.
Stock up to Top Fuel
dragster," he said.

As for the boost in pre-entries at the professional level, Pie said that more than two dozen Top Fuel
dragsters and two dozen Funny Cars should be on hand for the Spring Nationals.

The AHRA's huge river of driving talent came closer to being bankrupt over the winter when Don Prudhomme, long one of the premier drivers in drag racing, cast his lot with the Grand American Series in 1980.

Prudhomme, who carries the nickname "The Snake," will resume his drag racing war in fuel "Funny Cars" with Tom "The Mongoose" McEwen, the 1979 AHRA
champion.

In addition to McEwen, all of the 1979 AHRA champions are pre-enters for the Gateway Nationals. The list includes Don Garlits in Top Fuel dragster, Mike Savage

in BB Funny Car, Porter
Donn in Pro Comp, Bobby Marriott and Lee Shepherd, co-champions in Pro Stock,
Joe Williams in Top Comp,
Roy Kempe in Modified Street, Larry Mitchell in Super stock, Barry Shirley in Super Street, Rick Dacian in Stock, and Jerry Stephens in E. T. Stock.

veteran pitchers. The pressure must have gotten to them.

Stegemeier, though, said that his players seemed confident, even relaxed before the game. "I don't even think the fact that they (Edwardsville) beat us three times this season had much effect on our kids.

Cougars victims on trip

Special to
the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — It was a weekend of disasters on the West Coast, with volcanic eruptions and earthquakes. Amid the natural catastrophes, the women's softball team of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was toppled at the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women's (IAIWA) Division II National Tournament in Sacramento, Calif.

The Cougars were dropped from competition in the third game on Friday evening (May 23) when they were defeated by Oregon State, 5-0. Lori Davis, Oregon's pitcher, fanned 15 Cougars for the shutout.

The loss gave SIUE two defeats in the tourney and knocked them out of competition. The Kansas State Lady Hornets of Emporia had posted a 5-1 victory over the Cougars earlier Friday.
The game was played between showers.

Cathy Biondo drove in SIUE's lone RBI when Tammy Rainwater came home on her base hit. That happened in the first inning before the rain. Kansas Emporia came back after the delay and scored two in the sixth to add to two scored in the fifth. One more run for the Hornets in the seventh game gave them the victory.

Kansas-Emporia went on to win the tournament.

'Kids Krusade' at GC church

A citywide Kids Krusade program will take place Wednesday through Friday at Tri-City Park Tabernacle, 3400 Maryville Road. The services, starting at 7 o'clock each evening, will be geared to grade school level youngsters. All are invited to attend.

Each session will feature clowns, gospel, children's songs, puppets, an offering contest, quizzes and Bible stories using black light effects. Prizes and candy treats will be distributed.

Conducting the services will be William C. Harper Jr., an ordained minister with the Alabama District of the Assemblies of God.

Known as "Uncle Bill," he is currently serving as Children's Church pastor at Huffman Assembly of God, Birmingham, Ala., where his ministry includes weekly services to over 600 youngsters and training of lay leaders.

Rev. Harper and his wife, Carol, have conducted children's ministries in many Eastern and Midwestern states.

A children's ministry seminar will be taught by the Harpers from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at the local church.

Participants will be Sunday school teachers, children's workers and transportation volunteers, among others. Anyone interested in attending may call Dale Dickey, at 931-4500.

THE MORE YOU KNOW, THE BETTER YOU ARE.

Matthew 7:7 "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you."

We have little or no doubt that prayer is our lifeline with God. We may set aside a special time each day to pray, we may wait until worship time, or we may pray in a panic situation. We do pray, whatever the case may be. We understand that prayer is not only an effective means of letting God know what we have need of, it also allows time for God to speak to us. And He knows how we must hear from Heaven from time to time!

Christ promises us if we ask it shall be given. That's positive. Seek, and ye shall find. That's positive. Knock, and it shall be opened unto you. That's positive. God's answer is always positive. He does not waver. He does not change. He is the same to all who call upon him.

We will be greatly rewarded by God if we always ask with a positive attitude, the way to do that is to let our words be our confession rather than our petition. Say what you believe. Say what you know. Speak your faith in God and in His ability. You know what you need and so does God. Form a mental picture of your need after it is answered. That is, pray as though the need is already supplied. This will change your prayers of petition to words of praise! Thanking God in advance of answered prayer.

And don't forget God inhabits the praises of His people.

Now you can quit worrying over inflation if you will pray as though the problem is solved. Form a mental picture of a stabilized economy. Thank God for it. The answer is already on the way.

Besides, if we are praying for inflation to stop, we are praying the wrong prayer. Greed is the problem we should be praying about. Everyone wants the ultimate dollar of profit it seems and the economy be hanged. If every heart be filled with God, contentment will be widespread, and greed will subside.

Let us pray for our hostages. However, let us change our mental image of them. Instead of praying for their well being, health, psychological pressures, etc., Thank God as you see them coming home, as their families welcome them, as government lauds them, as they express joy in being home. In other words, thank God for the answer before it comes. If you ask you shall receive.

These prayer principles will work for you. For every situation.

The Rev. Paul Bryant, association executive, has extended an invitation to ministers in the Quad-City area "to come and enjoy this relaxed time of fellowship and informal conversation."

No business agenda is planned for the June 9 get-together, according to Pastor Pierson, secretary and spokesman for the group.

County Board, Ill. Senate back transit district plan

By JUDY TAPLIN
and RICK PEARSON

With little enthusiasm, the Madison County Board approved a resolution last week supporting two mass transit funding bills now in the Illinois legislature.

Midway through its discussion, the board learned that both bills had passed in the Senate Tuesday and were being sent to the House.

One bill would extend the current state subsidy for Bi-State Transit System bus service for six months. The other would create mass transportation districts in Illinois with power to levy a sales tax of up to ¼ of 1 percent. Both bills were introduced in the Senate by Sen. Sam Vadalahene (D, Edwardsville).

On Wednesday, Fred Dalton, Collinsville, urged the County Board not to put its stamp of approval on the mass transportation district legislation, calling it the first step in raising area taxes. He said better management by the Bi-State Development Agency is needed, rather than more taxes.

James Heil, Godfrey, arguing for approval of the resolution, noted that the bill is "permissive," allowing each county to decide whether it wants to actually impose the tax and how much.

Heil said the county would still be able to refuse the tax, and would be in a position to tell Bi-State it must have better management before the county would consent to the tax.

Dalton disagreed. It was a first step, he said. Once the bill was law, there would be pressure on the county to levy the tax, he said.

Mike Semanisin, Maryville, and Frank Vivod, Collinsville, said they believe a private company might do a better job than Bi-State in mass transit. It would be up to the county transit district to decide who to contract with for bus service.

Vivod said Bi-State, although threatening to curtail services if Illinois counties don't provide more funds, isn't giving adequate service currently.

William Little, Alton, noted that the bill allows the county to drop the tax later on.

Bi-State's efforts at correcting past mismanagement were defended by Roger Elble, Wood River. But he said the county should "levy no taxes and give no assistance" until there are further improvements in the transit system.

Vadalahene, contacted in Springfield, said he was pleased with the Senate vote on both bills.

"It has been a lot of hard work getting them out of Springfield," Vadalahene said. "It was a lot of hard work convincing the legislature."

The mass transportation district bill allows the three-county Bi-State service region to set up one or more boards with the power to levy up to ¼ percent sales tax to provide a local subsidy for bus service.

The other bill keeps the present state subsidy for Bi-State service at three-thirtieths of the sales taxes collected in the Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties service area. Sen. Vadalahene said he is doing "what the legislature mandated me to do" by introducing the bills.

Last year, the legislature required the three-county area to come up with a source of $1 million in matching funds to help subsidize bus service or lose two-thirds of its state subsidy.

The state gave local governments until July 1 to find a funding source. However, Vadalahene's bill extends the subsidy until Jan. 1, 1981.

State Rep. Frank Watson (D-Greenville), a House Transportation Committee member, said Wednesday he has not yet had a chance to review the two pieces of legislation.

Watson has taken out advertisements in newspapers asking the public its feelings on Bi-State service and the possible means for supporting it.

Watson has said he will request an amendment to the bill requiring that any tax levy be approved by referendum rather than through approval by the three-member mass transportation district board.

House sponsor of the bills, Rep. Monroe Flinn (D-Cahokia), said he has high hopes the House will pass the bill quickly.

"I think the House realizes that this is indeed, an emergency," Flinn said Wednesday. "I'm going to have to be doing a yeoman's job of explaining the bills, especially the extension."

Flinn said that in the wake of the Senate's overwhelming approval of the two bills, the House is likely to follow suit.

A spokesman for Gov. James Thompson said the governor has not had a chance to review the legislation and could not comment on its chances of receiving his signature.

The bill to allow creating of transit districts passed the Senate 14-4, and the bill to extend the current Bi-State Agency subsidy passed by a 40-13 margin.

Eight join Boy Scout Troop 7

Eight Webelos Scouts from Pack 7, St. Joseph's Catholic Church, "crossed the bridge" into the world of Boy Scouting.

Den Chief Chris Siede introduced the new scouts—Kevin McKee, Steve Falbe, Karl Markovich, Raymond Guenther, Ed Hill, Frank Scaturro, John Narup and Charlie Alexander.

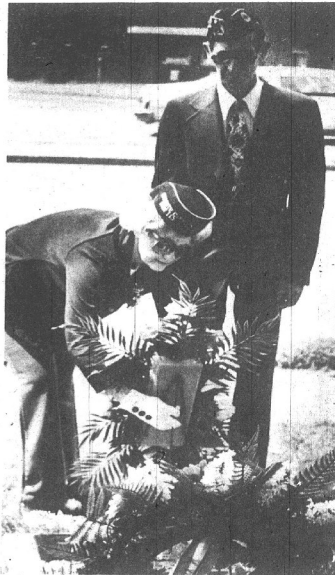

Patrol Leaders Reuben Garcia (Flaming Arrow) and Richard Schierling (Cobra) presented to the new scouts their patrol neckerchiefs. The eight formed the troop's new third patrol, Panther.

Senior Patrol Leader Steve Kusmierczak presented badges to the new scouts.

In January 1979, Troop 7 had four scouts. With the addition of these new scouts, the troop's strength stands at 28.

Kusmierczak approved the election of Patrol Leader, Karl Markovich and the appointment of Assistant Patrol Leader, Raymond Guenther.

"We cannot expect to have the privilege of living in this great country without sharing in the responsibility to uphold our freedoms."

Council OKs bike-a-thon, parade

Two activities planned for Saturday, June 7, in Granite City have received the approval of the city council.

The aldermen gave their permission for the local Cystic Fibrosis foundation to host a two-mile bike-a-thon in the city June 7, weather permitting. A rain date of June 14 also was approved. Since the request from James Colp Sr., co-chairman of the local Cystic Fibrosis group did not include a specific route, the chief of police was asked to supervise and approve the route. The council also gave its approval to a request by the Old Camp Meeting Tabernacle Church, 22nd Street and Bryan Ave., to hold a vacation bible school parade in West Granite City the same day, beginning at 1 p.m.

The parade will include a clown, two to four vehicles and marchers. The chief of police is to approve the specific route. Permission also was given to close Janday Lane June 8 from 1 to 9 p.m. for the annual Oaklawn Terrace Get-Together party.

House bans possessing fireworks

State Rep. Sam Wolf (D, Granite City) has announced that the Illinois House last week approved HB 2788 by a vote of 112 to 45. This legislation provides for banning of possession of fireworks.

Until now, the statutes have provided that the sale of fireworks is prohibited, but, this has resulted in many persons simply traveling over the river to St. Louis County and purchasing whatever supplies are desired and in whatever quantities, Wolf said.

The new legislation would prohibit possession of fireworks by any person, firm, partnership or corporation.

It includes a provision that possession by any party holding a certificate of registration under the Fireworks Registration Act of Illinois or by any employee or agent of such party, or by any person transporting fireworks for such party, will not be a violation provided the possession is within the scope of business of the fireworks plant registered under the act.

Wolf said the bill does not eliminate the right of persons or firms to obtain special permits for display or use of fireworks in the same manner as provided in the past.

In other business, the council agreed to have six additional fire hydrants installed in the city. The Illinois-American Water Co. will be requested to install hydrants and water main extensions at: Bremen Avenue and Nameok Road; 2100 Monroe St.; Iron and Carr streets; in the cul de sac on Miami Court; at the end of Colgate Place and at the end of Wilson Park Lane.

A stop sign was approved for northbound cars on State Street at 24th Street, where poor visibility has been blamed for several accidents, including one involving a police car this winter. Alderman Mac Warfield of the Sixth Ward told the council that the placement of street lights along the Nameok Ditch has created an unfair situation for persons who already had been paying for lights there.

The new lights were installed on every other pole along the ditch, but they skipped the poles which already had lights people were paying for, Warfield explained.

South vocal concert tonight

The annual spring concert of the vocal music department of South High School will be presented at 8 tonight in the South auditorium.

The public is invited to attend. The admission charge is 50 cents per person, with children 5 years and under admitted free. Theme of the concert is "That's Entertainment" and will include songs from musical comedies, contemporary numbers and sacred music.

DRUGS ARE TAKEN

Mrs. Mary Shimer, 1651 Olive St., reported that between 8:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Saturday her residence was burglarized. The only items that appeared to be missing were prescription drugs. Nothing in the house seemed to have been disturbed.

Consequently, several families are paying for street lights along the ditch while the rest of the families have lights the city is paying for. Alderman Warren Decatur, chairman of the street light committee, was asked to contact Illinois Power Co. and have the billing for those lights changed from the families to the city.

Since no bids were received for the sale of the house the city renovated at 2208 Benton St., the council agreed to seek bids a second time. The council was told that two families are interested in purchasing the house, but neither was able to secure financing by the bid deadline May 20.

Illinois Power Co. was granted permission to excavate on 29th Street on each side of Grand Avenue to update a natural gas line for Niedringhaus School. Four openings are to be made between June 9 and 12.

The council, seated as the town board, agreed to hire Harry Armstrong as attorney for Assessor Von Dee Crum in a lawsuit filed against the township by Paul Seebold. Seebold's firm constructed a dividing wall in the basement of the city hall for Cruse's office and the suit alleges that Cruse made public statements about the wall which damaged Seebold's reputation.

The aldermen approved estimates to repair two police cars damaged in accidents. Abels Auto Body was low bidder to repair one car at a cost of $344 and Snelson Auto Body was low on the other car's repairs at $324. Three firms bid on each of the repair jobs.

One bid was received for fencing at the new police building, but the bid was referred to the chief of police for a recommendation.

Fire Chief Don Parente was given permission to seek bids for an emergency radio for the fire department's new rescue truck.

Bills approved for payment by the town board totaled $8,036 from the town fund, $4,048 from general assistance and $19,946 from the revenue sharing fund.

Auto emission inspections, repairs have some logic—but citizens, legislators are concerned about 'rip-offs'

Everyone who likes to breathe clean air resents his neighbor's heavily-polluting auto. But the cumbersome remedy Uncle Sam is insisting upon overlooks potential abuses and is being resisted by Illinois legislators. Meanwhile, the Quad-City area may be caught in the middle of the disagreement, with economic sanctions imposed against the community.

The federal government is pushing for state enactment of House Bill 2051 (Motor Vehicles Emission Inspection and Maintenance Program). It fell two votes short on the deadline day, May 23. In the 87-48 roll call, Rep. Jim McPike and Rep. Monroe Flinn voted affirmatively, while Rep. Sam Wolf and Rep. Everett Steele voted "present."

The bill calls for the Illinois Environmental Agency in cooperation with the Illinois secretary of state to establish a program for the mandatory, yearly emission inspection of motor vehicles, including autos, light trucks and heavy-duty vehicles.

A typical scenario might involve an inspection costing about $8 or $10, a tune-up or repair project costing up to $100, followed by another inspection costing $8 or $10, all paid for by the already financially hard-pressed vehicle owner.

Press-Record staff members have found that in certain other states, inspection sites often detect differing problems on the same car, leading to doubts about the accuracy and fairness of the testing. The end result in some instances, many fear, can be "rip-offs" in the form of costly, needless repairs.

The program at present would apply to Madison and St. Clair counties in this area and, in the vicinity of Chicago, the counties of Cook, Lake, Kane, McHenry, DuPage and Will. All fail to meet present air quality standards due to auto exhausts and concentrations of industry, commerce and people.

Rep. Wolf said much of the opposition stems from the provision in Bill 2051 for a statewide program, even though only eight of the 103 counties would be affected initially. He said, "There is concern that environmental officials could revise their air standards later, to the point that many more areas would be included without any further approval by the legislature."

Plans call for enforcement of the legislation through the annual renewal of vehicle registration license plate stickers. Each vehicle owner would have to obtain a successful inspection and maintenance test before a renewal sticker could be issued.

Economic sanctions for failure to enact such a law could include a cutoff of federal highway, sewer and sewage treatment funds and a ban on new industry, determining needed employment, facilities and economic activity. The Colorado state government has been in a tug-of-war with the U.S. over the auto emission issue and so far has been losing out to "Big Brother" in Washington.

Rep. Steele in earlier debate said the House "should not be packed and jammed" into passing the proposal. Noting that the U.S. sometimes orders and then rescinds programs, such as mandatory wearing of helmets by motorcyclists, he said the car inspection rule, "Let's hope this one is rescinded."

Rep. Flinn said industrial expansion is vital for this region and Rep. Myron Kulas said it is a health issue, asserting that autos produce 80 to 90 percent of the carbon monoxide and hydrocarbon pollution in metropolitan areas.

All the legislators agree that federal sanctions would be harmful and that it is important to assure that auto exhaust control systems are working effectively. Most of those favoring a delay of state action say they don't oppose an inspection law with "teeth," but add that they want more guarantees in the law against test inaccuracies and fraudulent abuse of an individual's time, convenience and money.

Three hurt in Venice mishap

Three persons were injured at 1:20 p.m. Wednesday when the car in which they were riding went out of control and ran off the road on the levee of the Venice riverfront.

Tommy Rose, 19, of St. Louis, driver of the car, and Melody Atchison, 24, of 2115 Benton St., Granite City, were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by ambulance and were admitted. Another passenger, James E. Hiatt, 15, of St. Louis, sustained a broken arm and also was admitted.

Rose told Venice police that the brakes failed and he was unable to control the car, which began skidding and ran off the roadway.

Rose sustained a cut over the left eye and pain to the right hand and wrist. Miss Atchison suffered pain to her lower legs and was at first released after treatment. She returned to the hospital at 9:05 p.m. and was admitted.

The allegations were passed on by the Justice Department to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which regulates savings and loan associations, and resulted in the cutoff of funds to Green, the suit alleges.

Green's multi-million dollar construction empire collapsed without the funds to complete several large projects, including half of the Gaslight Walk apartment buildings in Ponton Beach, testimony showed.

Two witnesses took the stand this week. Edward A. Eckert, an official of the Long Lake Fire Protection District for the fiscal year which began May 1, 1980.

The fire protection district includes $200 for administrative expenses, $1,500 for legal fees, $90,000 to support the fire department.

Members of the fire protection district's board of trustees are Irene Karlechik, Harry A. Briggs and Arthur T. Thies.

Lending limits targeted Green and 7 others, witnesses testify

In 1969, Piasa First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Alton imposed a borrowing limitation aimed at bankrupting local contractor Jim Green and others, Green's attorney, Eckert, testified.

The lawsuit contends that a confidential memo sent by two former Telegraph reporters to the U.S. Justice Department tried to link Green, John Sobol, Ray Kozielek and others to persons with organized crime affiliations.

The allegations were passed on by the Justice Department to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which regulates savings and loan associations, and resulted in the cutoff of funds to Green, the suit alleges.

He asked if Eckert knew that was the intent of the action when he approved it and Eckert responded, "We accepted it. What they had voted on themselves."

The witness said the 1968 audit of Piasa's books showed a large number of outstanding loans for construction, some without proper down payments, and FHLB had requested that Piasa take action to better protect the investors.

Four elderly residents of the Madison County Nursing Home were injured when they were riding in a county van which was forced to stop suddenly on Route 159 by the Wal-Mart store near Glen Carbon yesterday afternoon. The van was taking a group to a party at another nursing home when an auto stopped suddenly in front of the van, forcing the driver of the van to apply his brakes. Several of the elderly passengers in the van slid from their seats onto the floor. It was reported. The van did not come into contact with the auto.

The van brought four injured women to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where Betty Gaertrner, 75, was admitted for a broken hip.

Mac Brant, 69, suffered pain to her legs, hips and a knee. Jewel Ratliff, 72, suffered various pains and Elita Mefford, 73, said she had stiffness to her right knee. The three were released after treatment.

Better wed than dead?

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County
Extension Adviser,
Home Economics

Here's a body and soul tip for smug bachelors: The world may not be your oyster, after all.
Statistics show husbands are healthier, wealthier, and more industrious, says the American Council of Life Insurance.

Better wed than dead, may well describe the 35-44 age group in which married men have a death rate of about three per thousand while unmarried men die at a rate of about 10 per thousand.

In addition, husbands seem to be better off financially than those who remain unmarried. According to the Internal Revenue Service, men comprise more than 60 percent of the nation's top wealthholders (incomes of $60,000 a year or more), and five out of six of them are married.

At ages 35 to 44, 95 percent of husbands are in the nation's labor force, compared to 87 percent of men who are not married.

In addition to living longer, acquiring more wealth, and working harder, a great many married men also help their wives at home. In the study by the College of Human Ecology at Cornell University, found that husbands often participate in cooking, child care and other formerly "wifely" duties.

Married men with two children, according to the study, average nearly 15 hours a week on household chores, whether or not their wives held outside jobs.

'Single stop' neighborhood service centers here

Southern Illinois Labor Tribune—The concept may have been created when a meat market and a grocery store first came together under a single roof. This led to the supermarket and eventually the shopping center.

The concept of the "single stop" has now been applied to social services in the jurisdictional area of the Tri-Cities. United Way and if a total program does not yet exist, substantial steps toward that objective have been taken.

The "Community Service Center" program coordinated by the United Way has central offices at 1254 Niedringhaus Ave., Granite City, where aides operate an information and referral center, and coordinate a program which provides numerous services to people who need help.

The Niedringhaus service center also has a staff of professionals and para-professionals, CETA workers, and senior citizens supported under varying programs. In the words of Community Services Director Larry Miller:

"They bring together services which were available before, but which may have taken people many hours of frustrating effort to track down."

Now comes the needy family, a father has just been laid-off after years of fighting off the ravages of inflation. He is broke, he is troubled by a teenage child who is a truant and a drug user; he has an infant who is facing the winter without warm clothing; and everyone, father, mother, teenager and infant, is hungry.

"We cannot solve every problem here," Miller said, "though certainly something approaching this is our objective. After all, the program is still in its infancy."

"But, even at this early stage, we can go a long way toward making community services immediately available to the family, right here."

The United Way itself—in cooperation with the AFL-CIO Community Services Department—funds the initial information and referral service, and provides emergency food for a family, "enough to keep them from hunger until regular maintenance and rehabilitative services can get under way."

If the family is in immediate need of clothing and furniture for its home, this is also available, from a program funded by the United Way and staffed by Miller, who is in charge of the affiliated AFL-CIO Community Services Department.

Other services available are the Alternative School (for truant and young people with adjustment problems), Women, Infants and Children, WIC (a supplemental food program), a alcohol and drug abuse program, family counseling, children's home and aid, the status offered program (aid for runaways and others who would not be in violation of the law except for age), truancy counseling and a youth employment service.

The above programs and others are coordinated by the United Way and operated in cooperation with Coordinated Youth Services.

Other participants in the program are Catholic Charities and the Madison County Urban League.

Catholic Charities conducts an adoption program, family counseling, a foster home program, and a referral service. The new program puts many services within reach of people with problems by making a single stop.

While the Niedringhaus Avenue center is the main office of the program, five "satellite centers" are also in operation. They are located at 3939 Lake Drive, Ponton Beach (831-2700); 406 Madison Ave., Madison (876-3096), and 2012 Delmar, Granite City (877-1184).

The Madison office is the office of Madison Coordinated Youth Services. The Venice office is the office of the Urban League, and the 2012 Delmar office is the office of Catholic Charities.

"While the 'satellite centers' offer many of the services offered at the Niedringhaus center," Miller said, "they provide quick referrals to agencies where those services are not available at the satellites."

Besides the clothing which is stored at the ready for distribution at the Niedringhaus center, the program has warehouse space for clothing and used furniture at the Granite City Arm Installation.

Th delivery system is designed to enable a person or family in need to call or stop in at a center, either Niedringhaus or a "satellite."

Immediate help is available and referrals to appropriate agencies for housing, clothing, medical treatment, food, job placement, education and counseling can be made rapidly.

Nameoki Presbyterian to honor graduates

Recognition of graduating seniors will take place at the 10:45 a.m. worship services Sunday at Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, it was announced today by the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor.

This Sunday also will mark the beginning of a "Fifty Minute Family Summer Service" that will continue throughout the summer months.

Familiar hymns, special music and casual dress will mark these services, the minister said.

"The Tombstones Talk!" will provide the basis for the opening messages of the summer, offering a fresh look at the personalities in the Bible as described in their epitaphs.

Rev. Pierson invited members of the community to attend all programs at the church, located at 1700 Ponton Road.

Sunday school starts at 9:30 a.m. and the worship service at 10:45 a.m.

The "summer teacher corps" also will begin its three-month teaching stint at Nameoki Presbyterian this weekend, according to Al Bagl, Christian Education chairman.

"This (practice) provides a breather for our regular staff and gives teaching experience to those who might have considered this kind of ministry," Bagl explained.

In the nursery, Kathy Toussaint will replace her sister, Karen, and Judy Hankins will replace Joyce Toussaint in the primary class.

Pre-teens will be taught by Kathy Brossman instead of Rita Lamb, and Ray Snelson will initiate a new junior high class.

Fred Barr will take Rev. Pierson's place as adult class teacher and the pastor will teach the senior high students, replacing Gene Flinn.

An evening vacation Bible school will start Monday, June 16, at the church, Rev. Pierson said.

Classes will be held from 6:30 until 9, under the direction of Leona Johnessee.

Ill. State U. to close admission of transfer students

Illinois State University, Normal-Bloomington, will close admission of transfer students for the fall semester at 4:30 p.m. Monday, June 16, it was announced by Vice President and Provost Leon E. Bothe.

It is the first time in the school's history for a cutoff in transfer student enrollment, and will follow by little more than a month the May 2 embargo on freshman admissions. Transfers from both community colleges and four-year institutions are affected.

Applications will continue to be accepted for the Graduate School, however. Former ISU students applying for re-admission also will continue to be processed.

Wilbur Venerable, director of admissions and records, said the closing on transfer students is necessary to bring ISU in compliance with an enrollment reduction plan approved by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

The BHE has identified Illinois State as one of several underfunded institutions, and has asked ISU to cut 385 fulltime equivalent students.

Underfunding would then be lessened because the amount lost in tuition would be replaced by general revenue funds in effect, giving the university more money per student.

Illinois State enrolled a record 19,576 students last fall.

More than 3,000 transfer students have already applied for admission. Venerable estimates that only 2,000 can be accommodated. Customary attrition is expected to lower the number of students that will actually enroll.

Similarly, 6,000 high school seniors have applied for fall semester, but the number of incoming freshmen should be closer to 3,500. Most students apply to several universities before making a final selection.

TOOLS STOLEN

Between 4 p.m. Tuesday and 7:25 a.m. Wednesday, forced entry was made into the Longwill and Scott Co., East Chain of Rocks Road. Among the items known taken were several tools and an impact wrench. An inventory will be made to determine what else was taken. No estimate of the loss was given.

Beware the flea beetle

By RON CORNWELL

County Farm Adviser Because of a mild winter, flea beetles, have come during the winter in substantial numbers to this area of the state. Flea beetles are present on newly emerging corn in Madison County.

The damage to the corn plant is caused by the adult beetles feeding on both the upper and the lower epidermis of the leaves.

They do not chew completely through the leaves. Heavy feeding by flea beetles will cause a whitish appearance on the corn leaves.

On field corn, a light infestation is not of serious concern. Heavy infestations on newly emerged corn will need spraying.

Heavy numbers of beetles on corn in the 2 to 5 leaf stage can kill plants. Sweet corn varieties are susceptible to bacterial wilt disease, which is transmitted by flea beetle feeding. Sweet corn needs to be protected from this insect pest.

Carbaryl or Sevin and Dazoxin are the chemicals recommended for flea beetle control on corn.

LABOR-MANAGEMENT TORCH CLUB at Granite City Steel is helping the newly-founded Alpha Center purchase a home to be used as an emergency pregnancy care center in the Quad-Cities. Alpha Center president Mrs. Susan Gasparovic receives a check for $4,000 from Torch Club Chairman Carl Baczenas, center, and Ed Boyer, right, representing United Steelworkers Local 67 Torch Club members at Granite City Steel. A newly-purchased residence at 2104 Cleveland Blvd. in Granite City is being remodeled to provide group living accommodations for pregnant women on a short-term or long-term basis. Alpha Center is currently conducting a $60,000 fund drive for the home, which will eventually house as many as 10 to 12 young women at a time.

The public is invited to attend and dance to the music of the River City 5 Band until 1 a.m., the organizing committee said.

VEHICLE STOLEN

The white 1975 Ford station wagon of Margaret Brim, 1710 Cleveland Blvd., was stolen from in front of her home early this week. Sabo chosen for W. Indies trip

Kevin M. Sabo of Granite City has been chosen by the International Division of the National Office of the Boy Scouts of America, along with five other young adults from throughout the nation, to participate in the West Indies Program of Operation Crossroads Africa.

Sabo will work along with a small contingent from the National Boy Scout Office to build and establish an active Scouting program on the island of Montserrat in the West Indies.

The program will run from the end of June until the middle of August with a two-day orientation in New York City prior to departure.

The Crossroads program will set weekends aside for travel to nearby islands, giving the participants time for exploration into archaeology, marine biology and photography.

All of the students who are participating in the Crossroads program are members of the Exploring program of the Boy Scouts of America.

Most of the participants have been past national Explorer officers or have worked with Scouting on a national level. Kevin is the recently retired Area Explorer chairman for the Mighty Rivers Area of the North Central Region.

The Mighty Rivers Area covers southeast Iowa, eastern Missouri, and southern Illinois and includes nearly 7,000 young adults.

KEVIN SABO

On a local level, Sabo is a member and past president of Explorer Post 10-33 sponsored by the Granite City Police Department. Kevin is the past Explorer Presidents' Association chairman for the Cahokia Mound Council and has held a position on the council's executive board.

As a 1979 graduate from Granite City High School South, Sabo is now attending classes at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, and is majoring in Administration of Justice and Air Force ROTC.

Sabo said that he would be happy to give presentations of his adventures in the West Indies to local organizations upon his return.
